HARRISBURG.

Democratic Convention.

THE TICKET NOMINATED.

Who We Have to Beat.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, May 24, 1871.

The proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, which assembled to-day at noon, were harmonious and orderly. The Convention was fully made up with delegates, every county being represented. Hon. Charles E. Coyle, of Fayette county, was elected temporary Chairman. Gen. William H. McCandless, of Philadelphia was nominated on first ballot for Auditor General and Colonel William Cooper, of Lawrence county, was nominated for Surveyor General. The ticket is hailed by the Democrats with much satisfaction. The platform adopted smacks strongly of Vallandigham's Dayton resolutions, and will be a hard one for old line Democrats to swallow. The leaders are open in saying that it is an easy thing to make promises, but time must tell whether they shall be kept. L.

HARRISBURG, May 24, 1871.

The Democratic State Convention assembled in the hall of the House this morning and was called to order at ten o'clock by Wm. Mutchler, Esq., Chairman of the State Committee, who addressed it as follows:

ADDRESS OF MR. MUTCHLER.

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION—The last Democratic Convention that assembled here gave to the candidates it nominated the privilege of naming the Chairman of the State Committee. By their partiality, and without any solicitation on my part, I was chosen to perform the duties of that responsible position. A violent partisan registry law, enacted for the avowed purpose of depriving us of equal rights at the polls, enabled our opponents to deny to us the fruits of a victory, which otherwise would have been fairly and honestly won. In relinquishing that position I desire to tender my acknowledgements to the Democracy of the State for the earnest support given me in my efforts for success.

You have assembled here to-day to nominate the candidates for the Democratic party for the coming campaign, and to reiterate the devotion of that party to the principles taught by the patriots and statesmen who believed that the States had powers not delegated to the general Government, and that the military should be subordinate to the civil authorities. The issues that will be presented in the coming canvass are not of the past. They belong to the present, and are of vital importance to the people.

While we recognize the binding force of the recent amendments to the Constitution, and only object to the unwarranted exercise of Federal power by which these amendments were forced upon the States, we still claim for the principle of State sovereignty an enduring vitality, and will not hesitate to assert our firm and unyielding opposition to any invasion of this Commonwealth by Federal troops, at the bidding of a military dictator, to interfere with its citizens in the free exercise of the elective franchise.

The people, oppressed by taxation, look to the Democracy to relieve them, to rebuke what has been amiss in legislation, both State and Federal, to restore concord and prosperity, and to bring about a restoration of constitutional rule in all the States.

The principles of the Democratic party have given to the country a glorious past, and if presented in their vigor and purity, must and will give to it an equally glorious future.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION.

The Hon. Charles T. Boyle, of Fayette, was elected Temporary Chairman, and Messrs. Jno A. Abera and John C. Barr Tempory Secretaries.

On motion of Mr. Fry, the rules of the House of Representatives were adopted to govern the Convention.

Resolutions were adopted appointing a committee of one from each Senatorial District to select permanent officers. Also, the same number on resolutions.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Hon. Wm. Hopkins of Washington county, was elected permanent President.

Mr. Hopkins was escorted to the chair, introduced by Mr. Boyle, and spoke as follows:

MR. HOPKINS' ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Convention:—I am thankful to you for the honor in selecting me to preside over your deliberations to-day. Since my arrival here I have been ill, most of the time in bed, and you must not expect me to make any extended remarks. Sitting in this chamber to-day, my thoughts have carried me back to the past and I have involuntarily compared the characteristics of the opponents of the Democratic party of to-day with those of thirty years ago. It is true, the bayonet was not then used as an auxiliary to carry elections, but it was attempted to be used to set aside elections, and to force into this and the Senate chamber, men whom the people had repudiated at the polls by majorities ranging from three to eight hundred. [Applause.] The power of the bayonet was then invoked to force into office men who had been rejected by the people. To-day, by the action of a profligate and servile Congress, the President of the United States has been clothed with dictatorial power, and the bayonet placed in his hands to control the ballot-box. There is not a despot on God's footstool possessed of more absolute power, than that recently vested in the President of this country of boasted liberty. At his will, the sacred safeguard of the peoples' liberty, the right of the writ of habeas corpus can be suspended, and any citizen can be arrested and imprisoned at his pleasure. In view of this condition of affairs, does it not behove us, my friends, to act with calmness and deliberation, prudence and courage. Let us discard all personal feelings in the selection of candidates, and let each delegate in this Convention conscious of his responsibility, and with an eye single to the fitness as well as the availability of our candidates. [Applause.]

It is not in my province to suggest even whom you shall choose. That is a question for you to determine. Let each one act under a solemn sense of his own responsibility, and with a full determination to support the ticket nominated, whether his individual preferences be gratified or not.

I feel that it will be doing violence to my health to continue further. I therefore ask you to excuse me and accept my thanks. [Applause.]

THE NOMINATIONS.

The following nominations were then made: For Auditor General—A. D. Markley, Gen. Wm. McCandless, F. M. Crane, Geo. W. Skinner, Daniel H. Nieman, S. T. Shugart, Col. A. F. Lewis.

For Surveyor General—Geo. W. Sanderson, W. Spicer, Wm. Donnelly, W. Stewart Wilson, W. T. H. Pauley, Thos. N. Brooks, Saml. Kitterman, Col. Sirwell, Capt. J. H. Cooper, Dr. Jno. Morrison, E. D. White.

KENTUCKY.

Newspaper Offices Destroyed by Fire.

LEXINGTON, KY., May 24.—This morning about eight o'clock the roof of the Daily and Weekly Press and Farmers' Home Journal building was discovered to be on fire, and in a remarkably brief space of time the entire roof was in flames, and by vigorous effort the most of the type, cases, &c., in the composing room and some of the papers and stock was gotten out before the roof fell in, but much of it was damaged by water. The misfortune entails considerable loss on the proprietors, but with characteristic energy they have directed the work of refitting to be commenced at once. It may be necessary to omit the publication of the Daily for a few days, and the Farmers' Home Journal, next week; but the office will soon be in working order. Insured in the Andes.

NEW YORK.

Opening Reception—Parting Banquet—The New Piers—Collector Murphy—Erie Mismanagement—The Reading Railroad—An Insurance Meeting.

NEW YORK, May 24, 1871.

OPENING RECEPTION.

The Army and Navy Club, composed of officers and ex-officers of the army and navy, had their formal opening reception at their new club house, No. 16 Fifth avenue, last evening. The newly installed officers were Admiral Gordon, President; Generals Horatio and G. W. Wright, Vice Presidents; Colonel B. F. Morgan, Secretary; General Henry E. Davies, Jr., Treasurer. Among the military celebrities were Major General W. F. Baldy Smith, W. B. Franklin, Charles K. Graham, Newton Averill, Aspinwall, Shaler, Kiddoo, Burnside, Jefferson Davis and others. During the evening an elegant collation was served, and speeches were made by Generals Burnside, Baldy Smith, Aspinwall and others.

COLLECTOR MURPHY.

Periodical rumors of the removal of Collector Murphy are again renewed by the Washington correspondents. The Herald's correspondent telegraphed last night as follows: It is correctly reported that Collector Murphy, who dined with the President yesterday, has for certain reasons tendered his resignation as Collector of the port of New York. The purpose of his action was founded, it is said, on the ground that the opposition to this officer embarrasses the President, and that he had the privilege of naming as his successor General Childs Arthur, who is a personal friend of Murphy. It is stated that the nomination of General Arthur was made out to-day at the Executive Mansion, and was among those sent to the Senate. General Porter, the President's Private Secretary, had left the White House with the nomination, but at the instance of General Ingalls, a messenger was sent after him, and the nomination of General Arthur was temporarily withheld. It will, however, be sent to the Senate before adjournment.

The World's correspondent has telegraphed: It is learned that Collector Murphy has this day intimated to the President that his resignation is at his disposal, and that he has named, as a candidate, General Arthur for his successor. The President will probably nominate General Arthur, or some one else, before the Senate adjourns. A Tribune correspondent telegraps that there seems to be no better foundation for the story than the fact that Mr. Murphy has been in town since Sunday, and that he was to have returned to New York this evening. He was the guest of Secretary Robeson during his stay. Collector Murphy had an interview with the President to-day by appointment. From all that can be learned his position in the esteem of General Grant is stronger than ever.

ERIE MANAGEMENT.

It is stated in positive terms that a radical change is about to be made in the management of the Erie Railway, and that a number of railway magnates now in this city have combined for this purpose and for the total reorganization of the Erie Directory. Prominent officers of the great trunk lines are now in this city and held several secret conferences within the past few days at the Grand Opera House. At these meetings Messrs. Schell, Clark, and others of the Vanderbilt party were present. It is said that, finding American credit abroad to be seriously affected by the differences between the Erie management and the foreign owners of Erie shares, a number of capitalists and railroad men set to work as mediators, and after a due consideration finally arranged a basis upon which both parties to the war have agreed to cease hostilities. Impending the change in Erie Directory, and the sudden restoration of confidence in its securities, it is claimed that the first good results of this arrangement will be an extraordinary meeting of the Erie Directory will be held in a few days, when the report of the Committee of Investigation, recently appointed, will be submitted, and it is stated that the resignation of three, if not more, of the present Directory will be offered.

THE READING RAILROAD.

The Tribune of this morning says: For some time it has been known that capitalists identified with the Reading Railroad have been purchasing Railroad coal lands in the Schuylkill regions. It is now publicly announced that the Railroad is to go into the mining business on a large scale. The Company has gone into the money markets of London and New York as borrowers of twenty-five millions of dollars, of which six millions is to be devoted to the consolidation of its existing funded debts and the remainder employed in paying for and improving its coal beds. Bills of exchange against a portion of this loan already negotiated in London, were sold in Wall street yesterday. A statement is made in Philadelphia papers that the Reading Company can raise from its recently acquired property ten million tons annually for centuries, and as the market now with difficulty takes less than five million tons from the whole of Schuylkill county, it will be seen that the Reading Railroad will have power to overwhelm all private operations by its competition.

INSURANCE.

The National Convention of insurance officers met to-day. Eighteen States were represented. A permanent organization was formed with Geo. W. Miller, of New York, President; Lloyd Druze, of Wisconsin, Vice President; H. A. Alcott, of New York, Secretary. A committee consisting of Superintendent Miller, Messrs. Albert W. Payne, of Maine, Henry Kelzing, of New Jersey, and S. W. Smith, of Kentucky, was appointed to prepare business for the convention and report at the beginning of to-morrow's session. A letter from Commissioner Clark, of Massachusetts, was read regretting his inability to be present and a resolution subsequently passed extending to him a special invitation to attend the convention which continues several days.

PARTING BANQUET.

A parting banquet to the British High Commissioners was given yesterday afternoon and evening by Cyrus W. Field, at Delmonico's. Besides the Commissioners, the guests numbered over one hundred of our most prominent citizens. Speeches were made by Earl de Grey, William Cullen Bryant, Sir Stafford Northcote, ex-Senator Williams, General McDonald, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and others.

THE NEW PIERS.

The Commissioners' Department have completed their plans, and will begin the construction of the new piers at once, commencing at the Battery Place. The North River plans involve wide streets along the North and East rivers. The new piers projected from this sea wall are open, and underneath so as to obstruct as little as possible the flow of the current, and sheds upon the piers to protect the merchandise.

ZEIGENMEYER.

Alfred Zeigenmeyer, accused of the murder of Wm. Gumbleton in November last, and recently extradited from Germany and brought to this city, was arraigned before the Criminal Court this forenoon. The prisoner was specifically charged with murder in the first degree and with forging Gumbleton's name to two drafts, one for $7,985 on the Fourth National Bank of New York and the other $300 on the National Bank of Commerce of Chicago. Zeigenmeyer plead not guilty to the first charge and guilty to the two others. The Court explained to him that he must be sent to State prison on each charge of forgery for a term of not less than one year or more than fourteen. The accused appeared without counsel, and in order to give him time to fully prepare for trial he was remanded to jail. He was unaccompanied by relatives or friends at the arraignment. His father is expected here and it is understood that he will come prepared to procure able counsel to defend his son. Several ambitious shysterly limbs of the law have volunteered to defend Zeigenmeyer, but it is said he has positively refused their services. It is probable that the trial will commence on the 20th of June. The opinion is quite freely expressed that Zeigenmeyer had an accomplice in his designs upon Gumbleton.

JIM MACE.

Jim Mace the pugilist arrived in Chicago this morning and made a visit to police headquarters, where he viewed the numerous pictures in the rogues gallery. He leaves for Kansas City to-morrow.

OUTSIDE PARIS, May 24, Morning.—The barricades in the Place Vendome and Place de la Concorde have not yet been carried, and the barricades in Belleville still hold out against the Government troops. FIGHTING RECOMMENCED.

ST. DENIS, May 25.—After a brief lull, fighting in Paris recommenced yesterday, continuing all night. The troops of Generals Douai and Vingy surrounded the Tuilleries, Louvre and place Vendome. A combined assault by all the troops is now going on.

VERSAILLES, May 24.—Morning—The government troops dislodged the federalists from the Faubourg Germain and elsewhere and are to-day continuing their victorious march. [World special.]

A TERRIBLE DAY.

ST. DENIS, Evening May 24.—This has been a terrible day for Paris. The city is burning in many places and the destruction of a great part of the central and eastern districts seems inevitable. The Communists still hold all the district between Place Vendome, the Tuilleries and Belleville. The troops are mowed down by fire from the windows, barricades and mitrailleuses, but steadily gain ground. The slaughter is awful.

[Tribune Special.]

TRYING TO SAVE.

The Versailles Fire Brigade has gone to Paris, and Thiers has gone to superintend the operations. There is every symptom that the fire was caused by petroleum. There are reasons to fear that the Palace Royale, Hotel de Ville and other State edifices had been prepared by the Communists for destruction by fire.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The Times expresses the opinion that the settlement of the question of the Alabama claims is honorable to England, and that the object of both governments is realized. Though the treaty represents no perfect compromise, it is still acceptable for the sake of peace, and both countries have already practically ratified the result of the Commission.

THE COMMUNE.

Berlin journals of the 21st state that Gen. Fabrice recently demanded of the Paris Commune the surrender of the National Guards implicated in the attack of Mr. Washburne, American Minister. Grousset replied that the Commune had ordered that Embassy to be held sacred, and that when they heard that the establishment had been attacked they ordered a court marshal of the offenders. The culprits fled in dismay and could not be found. The Commune could not but express sorrow and indignation at the deed which they could not prevent.

LONG ISLAND.

The Collins Edwards Fight.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., May 24.—The Collins-Edwards prize fight which was to have taken place this morning at Cold Spring was prevented by the police. The stakes were pitched and both men appeared at the scratch and the battle was about to commence when the New York police boat with 100 picked officers hove in sight. The fight was forgotten and every one looked to his own safety. Very soon the alarm became general and there was not a man to be seen. Every effort was made to arrest the principals but without success, they having been spirited away. Sergeant O'Brien however succeeded in arresting the notorious Dooney Harris and Mike Smith, whom he discovered in a house. The police having secured the stakes and ropes, and having ascertained that Edwards and Collins had escaped into the adjoining country, returned to the city. It is expected the fight will come off at some place in this vicinity to-morrow. Dooney, Harris and Smith, who were captured, were brought up before Judge Dowling and committed to the city prison in default of one thousand dollars bail. The Judge said the day for prize fighting was over and such public exhibitions are illegal, and hereafter announcements of sparring exhibitions to come off in the city would be sufficient evidence to grant a warrant to break in the premises by force and arrest the offenders.

THE VICE PRESIDENT.

Vice President Colfax is stronger but suffered last night with a severe headache, which prevented his sleeping as well as upon the previous night. His circulation is good, and the symptoms are favorable, but the physicians insist on absolute quiet. Mrs. Colfax is not here, because Mr. Colfax telegraphed on the evening of his attack not to come. She is still nursing her child and Mr. Colfax could not consent that either of them should take the risk of a long and needless journey as he is receiving every possible attention. All his friends had called and had been most kind in their offers of attention.

Y. M. C. A.

The International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, commenced its session this morning in Lincoln Hall, which was handsomely decorated, there being a profuse display of flowers on the stage. Nearly, if not all, the States are represented together with delegates from the British provinces. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. John Wannamaker of Philadelphia, was elected permanent President. John S. McLean, called the Convention to order and delivered an address, in which he congratulated his friends upon the favorable auspices under which they had assembled, and spoke of increasing the membership and influence of the organization. Prayers were offered for the early recovery of the Vice-President Colfax, and Senator Wilson who was present, was requested by vote, to inform him of the deep sympathy of the Convention.

After the preliminary proceedings Mr. Cowles, from the Committee on Organization, made a report recommending the election of the following officers: President, John Wannamaker, Philadelphia; Vice Presidents, R. R. McBurney, New York; J. Skinner, North Carolina; W. Brooks, Calafornia; R. H. Brown, Louisiana; T. T. Claxton, Quebec; M. S. Crosby, Michigan; J. H. Kendrick, Rhode Island; M. K. Barnard, Indiana; C. Lloyd, Washington, D. C.; C. B. Fisk, Missouri; C.P. Palmer, Prince Edwards Islands; W. B. Simpson, West Virginia; Secretaries, T. H. R. Enos, Indiana; W. H. Hobbs, Maine; H. J. Cowles, Wisconsin. The report was adopted. Mr. Enos declined to serve as Secretary, and J. T. Platt, of Poughkeepsie, was elected.

The Convention engaged in devotional exercises conducted by Mr. Wannamaker, the President, during which prayers were offered for the families of Bishop Clark and Mr. Osborn, of Indianapolis, and for the city of Paris. Mr. E. A. Hutchins presented the report of the Executive Committee, stating that reports on the state of work had been received for the press from seventeen States. Only sixteen local conventions had been held. There are now on the roll 779 associations. Eighty-three associations organized during the year, and one hundred and nine disbanded. Mr. Windersoll, agent of the Executive Committee read a report by which it appears during the past year he traveled extensively in the West and Northwest, assisted in the formation of new Associations and endeavored to cheer up some of those who appeared languishing. In Duluth he did not succeed and of this place he says, Duluth is a hard field for Christian work. At the conclusion of the reading of the report, Secretary Delano, with a delegation of Indians who arrived a few days ago, appeared on the platform. Secretary Delano addressed the Convention.

The presiding officer, Mr. ANTHONY, presented the memorial of Flanagan, Bradley, Clark & Co., for John J. Flanagan; Henry Woodruff for himself as trustee for the undesigned Courtland, Palmer and John M. Donaldson, trustees of the Poultney National Bank, by Henry Woodruff, attorney, stating they have just claims to the amount of over a quarter of million dollars against the government of Venezuela, for losses occasioned by its failure to perform its obligations and duties under certain grants relating to the construction of a railroad east from Carsecas to Petare, and its wrongful and arbitrary acts in seizing, by military force, the material, tools and equipments connected with the construction of the road, etc. They therefore ask the Senate to give some one of its Committee power to send for persons and papers and make an examination into the matters connected with the proceedings and delinquencies of the mixed Commission and make a report thereon and in the meantime that such proper action be taken as to cause said monies to remain undisturbed to the holders of said certificates payable to bearer, until such time as the Committee make a report thereupon to the end that corruption may be deprived of its reward and justice be done. The memorial was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The Senate then went into Executive Session on the Treaty.

QUADRENNIAL GATHERING.

Methodist General Gathering—Seventh Day's Proceedings.

Conference met at nine o'clock, President Pierpont in the chair. Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. A. S. Elliott, of the Iowa District. The roll was called and the minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

The Executive Committee made a supplemental report.

Mr. M. V. B. Evans, from the Special Committee appointed to confer with Dr. George Brown in reference to preparing a volume of sermons and essays, submitted a report. The Committee reported that Dr. Brown in response had stated that he would undertake the work with cheerfulness, and thought if God spared his life and health he could complete the volume within a year.

The report was accepted and adopted.

The Executive Committee submitted several amendments to the Discipline, which were adopted.

The Special Committee appointed to consider the report of the Committee on Ministerial Education submitted a report.

Reports were also presented by the Legislative Committee and the Committee on Conference Boundaries.

THE REMOVAL OF THE BOOK CONCERN.

Conference then took up the report of the Committee on the Book Concern, recommending its removal to Pittsburgh. The minority report, signed by C. Link, was read in connection with the majority report, which we have already given in substance.

Considerable discussion ensued on points raised, without reaching the subject of the removal of the Concern.

Dr. Flood read a paper referring to the appointment of the First Agent at Springfield, for the purpose of showing that there was some doubt whether the Conference as a body owned the Book Concern.

Mr. Knight stated that the relation of the Conference to the Book Concern was that of a Board. As the question of removal was not, therefore, within the province of the Conference, as shown by the record submitted by Dr. Flood, he moved to lay both reports on the table.

This motion was subsequently withdrawn, and a motion was made by J. W. Burns that a committee of three be appointed to examine into the title of the General Conference to the Book Concern.

Rev. Mr. Robinson offered an amendment, which was accepted, directing the committee to inquire into and ascertain what amount of property, if any, the General Conference has in the said Concern.

The motion, as amended, was adopted, and the chair appointed Rev. J. H. Burns, Dr. John Scott and Wm. Rinehart.

After the committee had been announced Dr. Flood moved that two members of the Ohio Conference be added to the committee. The motion was adopted, and Rev. J. M. Flood and J. M. Johnson were appointed.

Mr. Burns asked to be excused from serving on the committee. The request was granted, and Rev. C. Gray was substituted as a member of the committee.

METHODISTIC UNION.

N. H. Jordan, chairman of the Committee on Methodistic Union, submitted a report. The report strongly recommended the union of the entire Methodist family. Special reference was made to union with the Methodist Protestant Church.

After the paper had been read a protracted discussion ensued on the item referring to the union with the Methodist Protestant Church, which authorized the appointment of Commissioners to present to the Methodist Protestant General Conference, which will meet in 1874, propositions of Union.

A substitute was finally offered by Rev. C. Gray, authorizing the fraternal messengers to the M. P. General Conference to act as Commissioners to receive any propositions for Union that they may deem necessary to that body, and to report the same at the next session of the General Conference of the Methodist Church.

This substitute, which was substantially the same as reported by the Committee, was finally adopted, and the report as a whole, after some slight amendments, was adopted, and afterwards referred back to the Committee to fix the number and to designate the names of the messengers.

Conference closed with prayer by Rev. W. H. Jordan.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Conference met at two o'clock, President in the chair.

Religious exercises were conducted by one of the brothers.

Roll was called and the minutes of the morning session were read, corrected and approved.

Took up the papers on file.

A further report from the Legislative Committee was read and referred back for consideration.

Rev. Wm. Wragg, of the M. P. Church, was introduced and invited to an honorary seat.

The Committee to examine and report on the new hymn book, submitted to this body for approval by the Compiling Committee, reported as follows:

The committee to whom the subject of the new hymn book which has been prepared by a committee appointed by the last General Conference beg leave to report,

1. The classification of the hymns under different topics is in our judgment more perfect and complete than obtains in any other hymn book with which we are acquainted.

2. The arrangement of the hymns under these topics has been made with great care, and is characterised by much discrimination and good taste. In the two particulars above named, this collection, in our judgment, stands without a rival.

3. The poetic taste manifested in the collection of hymns is equally marked. No hymns of an approved character are wanting in this collection and very few are inserted which good taste would reject.

4. No hymn book with which we are acquainted presents to the preacher such facilities for the selection of hymns appropriate to any subject on which he may have occasion to treat as this collection. The same holds as an aid to readers in enabling them to contemplate and appreciate the subject matter of our hymns.

5. The number of hymns pertaining to Sabbath schools, we judge, should be very considerably increased.

6. Before the work is published we recommend that a considerable number of pieces for chanting should be added.

In view of the above considerations, we recommend that this collection be published under the direction of this Conference, and by the Conference, commended to our churches.

A. M. OLIVER.
T. B. GRAHAM,
T. B. CARPENTER.

Read and adopted.

The Committee on Methodistic Union reported item 5, revised, which was read and amended and then laid on the table.

Brother Gray then offered the following substitute for item 3, viz:

Add to section 18 after the word "resignation" the words "or otherwise" then erase all after the word "otherwise." Adopted.

Section 20.—After the word "rules" in the last line add the following: Persons whose names are on the church record, and cannot be found, or have ceased altogether to take an interest in the church, may be dropped from our record, by a vote of the church. Adopted.

In Section 18, Item 5.—Erase the words "become extinct," and substitute the following: "have lost its organization." Adopted.

Erase item one, and insert the following as part:

"The great Conference shall be called to order by the pastor when present, who shall preside, provided the Conference may appoint some other person to preside when he shall judge it necessary. The Conference shall be opened by reading a portion of Scripture and prayer. The first quarterly Conference shall elect a Secretary, whose term of office shall continue until the election of his successor the succeeding year. One third of all the members in stations, and one sixth in circuits shall constitute a quorum." Adopted.

P. P. 76, Item 5: We recommend that the words houses of worship be substituted for meeting houses, and add after houses of worship, or parsonages.

P. P. 73: Add to SEC. 16, making it No. 1, the following: The stewards in circuits, missions and stations shall be elected in their respective places of election (See Constitution, p. p. 20) sometime in the last quarter of the year; also to hold a financial meeting as soon as practicable after the rise of the ensuing Annual Conference to ascertain the salary, moving expenses and house rent, if any, and apportion the proper part of the same to be paid by the classes, subject to ratification by the Quarterly Conference. The steward then of the respective classes may, assisted by the leader, proceed to raise their apportionment.

J. J. Smith, from the Committee on Ordination of Ladies, submitted a minority report as follows:

We, the undersigned, members of the committee on the ordination of females beg leave to submit the following minority report:

That while we accord to woman a wider range of influence in Society; a more delicate and refined sociability; a more enduring patience, deeper affection, superior gentleness, and a sweeter temper than belongs to the sterner sex, and which so pre-eminently fit her for that important sphere to which she has been assigned by God as a fit companion and help meet to man. And while we yield to none in our admiration of woman's excellences, talents, usefulness and undoubted merit as developed under the enlarged sphere of her activities in the present age; and while we most gladly hail and welcome whatever may tend to elevate and honor her in social life, and that will tend to justly enlarge her field of usefulness in society and while we say nothing against her exercising her talents if needs be in public exhortation or even preaching the word, yet we would that the ordination of females should not be authorized by this General Convention, for the following reasons:

1. Because of the doubtful expediency, to say the least, of a denomination so young as ours and comparatively small, introducing or sanctioning at this juncture so questionable an ecclesiastical innovation upon the universal practice and policy of all Christendom.

2. Because there is not a single passage in the word of God, our only rule upon the subject, that unmistakably warrants the proposed measure.

3. Because it is in open antagonism with the practice of Christ and his apostles, so far as their practice had any bearing upon this subject.

4th, and lastly, Because, as we believe, it would come in direct conflict with the teachings and inspiration in 1 Cor. xiv. 34, 35, and the qualifications of a Bishop, as set forth in the third chapter of 1st Tim. Therefore,

Resolved, That we deem it unadvisable to authorize or sanction so radical a change in our ecclesiastical organism as proposed by the advocates of the ordination of females, a change so essentially at war with the entire structure of our Book of Discipline as would render many other changes absolutely necessary, thereby requiring much additional legislature to harmonize various portions of our discipline with such a measure.

E. WILLIAMS,
J. J. SMITH.

Received and made the order of the day this afternoon, after Conference opens.

Dr. Collier from the Committee on Finance, reported as follows, which on motion was adopted, viz:

"The Committee to whom was referred the matter of Finance, beg leave to report as follows: That not having any very definite idea of what the General Conference would expect from them, by way of financial plan, suggests that to the Annual Conference properly belongs the duty of adopting such measures as will be efficient in securing the necessary funds to support the various institutions of the church.

W. COLLIER, Chairman."

Adjourned with prayer by Bro. J. H. Robinson.

A SERIOUS ERROR.—We dislike commenting upon the action of our public spirited citizens who took part in the late dedication of the Soldiers Monument, but must express the opinion, that instead of baptising the statue with wine, they should have used Pittsburgh's favorite beverage, Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale.

AT the meeting of the American Medical Association in San Francisco, when the question concerning the fitness of women to be physicians had been fully discussed, but twenty-five proved themselves to be "true men" according to Mrs. Danse's definition, while eighty voted against the innovation.

WHY DON'T the Post speak out frankly and let its readers know whether it rejects or endorses Vallandigham in his advanced ideas or not? Why should it now go back on the "great Statesman" whom it endorsed during the war while he was preaching" treason in order to help on the Southern cause? Then neighbor, pray tell, why so silent? Speak out manfully.

THE POST is in trouble, and cannot determine which horn of the dilemma to take. It still desires to make war on the "Poor Nigger" and keep up its old howl about a 'White's man's government," but the young Jackson element say "hold; enough! We are going to win, if we can, and a 'Niggers' vote in the count is as good as a "White man's.'" We pity our neighbor; but, then, we all live in a progressive age and what is to be, must be.

THE Roman Catholics of the entire world have turned anxious eyes to Rome, and await with patience to see if the sovereign Pontiff will live to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his reign as the Head of the church. The anniversary of his election occurs on the 16th of next month, and, inasmuch as it has been a popular belief that no Pope could occupy the chair as long as St. Peter is said to have filled it, much interest is manifested and the day is anxiously awaited for a confirmation or denial of the truth of the tradition. Pope Pius celebrated his 79th birthday on the 13th inst. A rumor says that he is now dangerously ill and that death seems close at hand. Of the 257 Popes who preceded him none have had a longer reign.

REFERRING to the resolutions of the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, which has been in session in Philadelphia for the past few days, in relation to the connection between the Bartholomew massacre and the present civil war in France, the New York Tribune says:

The Reformed Presbyterian Synod of Philadelphia yesterday comforted their Protestant orthodoxy by resolving that the present woes of Paris and France were a righteous retribution for St. Bartholomew. It probably never entered into the minds of these Agog-hewers that the spirit they exhibited in this utterance entitles them to claim a brotherhood of soul with Catharine de Medici and the murderers of Coligny.

We are sorry the Synod did not enlighten the world as to the source from which they derived their information that "the present condition of France, and of the city of Paris in particular, as now drenched by the blood of her own citizens, is a righteous retribution for the martyrdom of Saint Bartholomew's Day, and a tangible fulfillment of the divine promise to the Church, 'No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper.'" John makes no mention of it in the Apocalypse and the Reformation Principles are silent on the subject. We do not call in question the wisdom of the body which make the above assertion, but we would like to know upon what it is based.

DEATH OF BISHOP CLARK.

The death of Bishop Clark, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Cincinnati, announced by the telegraph yesterday morning, was not wholly unexpected, as he had been in delicate health for several months. The three new Bishops elected at the General Conference, held in Philadelphia, May, 1864, namely, Bishops Edward Thomson, Calvin Kingsley, and Davis W. Clark, have all died within less than two years. Bishop Kingsley, at Beyrout, Lyria; Bishop Thomson, fell at Wheeling, West Virginia, and now Bishop Clark, the last of the two, succumbed to disease at his residence in Cincinnati. Bishop Clark, for years before his elevation to the Episcopacy, while editor of the Ladies Repository, was regarded with much favor by the minority in connection with this office, because of his superior qualifications and eminent services to the Church. During his editorial life of over ten years, and since elected Bishop he wrote several works which placed his name in the front rank of writers, especial of biography and history. It is believed his death was chiefly caused by too much mental effort, from which his massive frame finally yielded to the strain. In person, the Bishop was large, fine commanding appearance, ruddy countenance, genial temperament, and exceedingly courteous in his manners. After the war he rendered signal services to the Church, by organizing the work in the Sothern States, and fostering its educational interests, in connection with the building of churches. The fact that he was the Presiding Bishop at the late session of that large and influential body, the Pittsburgh Annual Conference, at Steubenville, Ohio, in March last, and gave the ministers in the two cities and vicinity their official appointments to the respective churches, his death has caused great sadness in Methodist circles.

REFORMED PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD, O. S.

This body which assembled last evening in the Reformed Presbyterian Church on Eighth street, Rev. A. M. Milligan, Pastor, is composed of about one hundred and forty members, representing more than eighty congregations, with a membership of nearly eight thousand communicants. The chief peculiarities which distinguish this branch of the Presbyterian family, and in which is to be found what the French happily call their raison d' etre, or reason for existing, are the maintenance of an absolute prohibitory discipline against membership in the secret orders, and of a steadfast dissent from the Constitution of the United States, on the ground of what seems to them its unmistakeably non-religious character. In the exercise of this dissent they do not refuse any duty which they feel to be binding on good citizens, nor withdraw themselves from any share of the public burdens, but simply refuse to incorporate themselves with the government of the United States on the basis of the Constitution in its present form. Naturally and consistently they have co-operated enthusiastically from the first with the movement to secure the religious amendment of the National Constitution. This body also agrees with the United Presbyterian Church in maintaining the exclusive use of the inspired Book of Psalms in divine worship.

Historically, the Reformed Presbyterian church has sprung from the Covenanters of Scotland. A church was formed of Covenanters who had emigrated to America as early as the year 1744, but the organization thus effected was more than once temporarily lost. In 1798 a Presbytery was organized in Philadelphia, which has grown into the body now assembled in this city. Since the year 1833, two Synods have claimed and worn the Reformed Presbyterian name. The cause of the division was an attempt to change the discipline in reference to the dissent which had always been maintained from the political institutions of the United States. The other Synod is the one which signalized itself in this city recently by the suspension of Geo. H. Stuart, and is holding its session this year in Philadelphia.

The chief interest of the present meeting in this city turns on the proposed observance of the ordinance of Covenanting. A form of Covenant was prepared at the last meeting and has since been approved by all the Presbyteries. Arrangements have been made for the formal observance of this religious service on Saturday next, unless, for sufficient reasons, it be postponed.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

It is a long time since the matter of the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating beverages began to occupy and engross public attention. Through the agency of Pittacus, a law was enacted in ancient Greece, that he who should commit a crime while in a state of intoxication should have a double punishment inflicted upon him. He was deemed worthy of punishment, first for drunkenness, and then for the crime committed while in that state. According to Solon, a magistrate who became inebriated was guilty of a capital offence. By way of producing in their children an abhorrence of drunkenness, the ancient Lacedemonians used to intoxicate their slaves, thereby doing evil that good might come out of it. During the reign of George II., of England, intemperance prevailed in that country to a frightful extent. Alcoholic liquors were manufactured in such large quantities, and sold at such a low price, that the people, generally, became addicted to their use. The government, in consequence, became fearfully alarmed at the state of the country, and resorted to different expedients to stem the tide of intemperance that was sweeping with such disastrous effects over the land. In order to stay its progress a heavy duty was laid upon all spirituous liquors, and every man who vended them had to pay twenty pounds sterling per annum for a license to do so. This heavy tax amounted almost to a prohibitory law. But the human mind is fruitful in expedients. In order to evade the heavy duty on malt liquors and the license tax, some persons began to manufacture a spurious article which went by the rather startling name of "Parliament Brandy." Matters now assumed a darker and more threatening aspect than before. Instead of getting better, they grew worse, and the impost and license laws were repealed in the sixth year of George's reign. But three years after their repeal, says the Penny Magazine, in the ninth year of George's reign, a prohibitory law was passed, which prohibited absolutely, the sale of intoxicating liquors. This law was never enforced. Rotten eggs were the visitation made upon those who attempted to carry it into execution.

In our own country we have had Maine liquor laws for about twenty years. We have had local option laws, temperance organizations secret and public, and in fact almost every expedient that human ingenuity could devise to restrain or limit the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors. But we are not sure that the drinking customs are less prevalent now than they were twenty years ago. In this State, we have had legislation upon legislation on the subject of liquor license, and the traffic in intoxicating beverages. The power of granting licenses has been transferred and re-transferred from one court to another. Temperance men and philanthropists have, at times, put forth the most herculean efforts to limit or do away entirely with the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors. Strong remonstrances have been presented to license boards, which have been urged to curtail the number of liquor retailers. But as yet little has been accomplished. We have been informed by those who say they have taken observations, that the number of taverns in which liquor is sold is but slightly, almost imperceptibly diminished.

That the unrestrained right to vend and use alcoholic liquors, especially in these days of universal adulteration, would be fraught with much evil none we think will deny. Nor will any objection be raised in any quarter against the philanthropic efforts of honest and moral men to mitigate the evils consequent on the unrestrained traffic and indulgence in intoxicating draughts. The great question is, how can this be accomplished? Moral and legal suasion may, separately and in conjunction, have done something. But the progress of their friends towards the goal which they have erected for themselves is remarkably slow, the great cause of which lies, no doubt, in the fact that whilst public opinion may have been favorable to their project it has not been aroused to active effort.

A friend who has not identified himself with either party in the contest, called our attention yesterday, to a trial had recently in Cleveland under a law passed in the Legislature of Ohio in April of last year, which provides, in substance:

That every husband, wife, child, parent, guardian, employer or other person who shall be injured in person or property or means of support by any intoxicated person, or in consequence of the intoxication, habitual or otherwise, shall have a right of action....against any person or persons who shall, by selling or giving intoxicating liquors, have caused intoxication in whole or in part of such person or persons; and the owner of, lessee or person or persons renting or leasing any building or premises, having knowledge that intoxicating liquors are to be sold therein in violation of law, or having leased the same for other purposes shall knowingly permit intoxicating liquors to be sold in such building or premises, that have caused the intoxication....shall be liable....for all damages sustained as well as exemplary damages.

Under the provisions of the statute, of which the above extract contains the gist, suit was brought by a woman against a saloon keeper for selling liquor to her husband, who had been given to intoxication for some four or five years, and had contributed nothing towards her support during that period. It was shown in the evidence that the wife had on many occasions, taken away her husband from the saloon in a state of intoxication, and that defendant, when remonstrated with against selling liquor to him, declared he would sell him as much as he pleased. The case was tried before a Justice's Court, and the jury after deliberating a few minutes, awarded the plaintiff the full amount of the damages claimed,—three hundred dollars,—all that could be sued for before a court of that kind.

The law under which damages were obtained in this case does not seem to be an unfair one. We have no right to inflict injury upon our neighbor's person or estate in any form. And if the venders of intoxicating liquors were held responsible for all damages accruing from the use of those which they sell, it would do more, in our opinion, to counteract the evils complained of than all the remonstrances that can be presented and urged before a License Board. Such a law could not meet with opposition in our State. It would be perfectly Constitutional, and if enacted would cause saloon and tavern-keepers to exercise greater caution. But some object and say, it is absurd to license a man to do a thing and then inflict a heavy penalty upon him for doing that which the law gave him the right to do. This objection has no force, if the present laws by which the liquor traffic is regulated are right. When a man receives a license to sell spirituous liquors under the present law, he has no right to sell at all times, and to all persons. If the present restrictions were carried out faithfully, there would not be so much ground for complaint on the part of those who have been making war against the tavern keepers for the past month. According to the present law it must be shown that a tavern is "necessary" before a license can be granted. The meaning is not certainly, that it is necessary to kill men and deprive their families of their temporal support, and, if under their license, tavern keepers do that which is not necessary, but positively destructive, we do not see why they should not be held responsible for damages inflicted in this as well as in any other form. We know that there are many gentlemen engaged in the liquor traffic who would rejoice in the enactment by our Legislature of a law similar in its provisions. They are aware that there are some persons engaged in the business who abuse the license and privileges which they hold, and it would afford them the highest satisfaction to see such restraints thrown around it as would prevent the occurrence of such cases as that which took place in Cleveland.

New Discoveries in Rome.

A correspondent of the Academy writes rom Rome:

The British Archæological Society is now authorized to carry on works in any part of Rome except the Palatine and Forum, on the sole condition of paying for the ground occupied. I am glad to report that, recently, the same anonymous lady who contributed last year £100 to the excavation fund of the Society has repeated the same liberal donation; and it is to be hoped that the University of Oxford, from which was received also £100 in 1869, will not cease to afford support to the same efforts of antiquarian undertaking. At present sixteen laborers are daily at work for the Society, and the site where these men are now mostly engaged is near the Thermæ of Antoninus (Caracalla), the outer range of vaulted chambers pertaining to which on the side of the Appian Way are shown through the results of recent labors, to be undoubtedly subordinate bathing rooms of the humbler description, and probably gratuitous, while the luxury of the bath had to be paid for, in the small copper money, by those admitted to the principal compartments.

Other buildings, also laid open in the course of these works, belong apparently to the patrician residence at the southern end of the thermæ, with painted chambers, mosaic pavements, and a lavarium, which was discovered at considerable depth below the surface about five years ago, and which has been arbitrarily called the House of Asinius Pollio. The character of the paintings here found indicates the Antonine period; and it seems probable that the ruins, now proved to be of greater extent than hitherto known, may have been an imperial palace of the second century, filled with earth, and thus sacrificed to the great thermæ built at a higher level in the century following.

Other works ordered by the British Society have secured some results on the northern slope of the Viminal Hill, where stood the ruins (not considerable) of the lavarium of Agrippina (baths for her own sex, founded by the Empress). Here have been laid open the remnants of two towers in stone-work, similar to, but much less massive than that of the fortifications of the ancient city; also a channel, cut through the rock, for supplying water to these baths, and a cavern, also opened in the solid rock, supposed to be a sacred spelæum of Mithras, narrow at the entrance, enlarging at the innermost part, and containing three marble busts, probably for statues, but no other symbol or accessory of Mithraic worship.

Among the discoveries obtained by Government works must be mentioned the chambers, seventeen in all, of an extensive building near the Thermæ of Diocletian, on one side of and considerably below the new line of road to be built as a long street, leading from the height of the Quirinal to the central railway station. A few paintings on the inner walls, but not of value, have been found here, and it seems more probable that the edifice was a patrician mansion rather than any adjunct to the vast buildings of the Thermæ where now stand the church and monastery of S. Maria degli Angeli. The promised researches for buried antiquity in the Villa of Hadrian have not yet commenced.

A Prophecy.

Victor Hugo in 1848 wrote:

"Two Republics are possible.

"One of them will tear down the tricolor and hoist the red flag, coin sous pieces from the Vendome Pillar, tear down the statue of NAPOLEON and erect in its stead that of MARAT, destroy the Institute, the Polytechnical School, and the Legion of Honor; it will add to the beautiful device; "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity" the sinister alternative, "or Death." It will bring about bankruptcy, ruin the rich without enriching the poor, destroy the public credit, which is the fortune of all, labor, which is every man's bread; will abolish property and the family, carry heads on lances, fill the prisons with suspected persons, and empty them by the massacre, set Europe afire, lay civilization in ashes, and make France the home of darkness; it will kill liberty, stifle art, decapitate thought; and deny God. It will erect the guillotine, and, in short, do everything in cold blood that the men of 1793 did in their frenzy, and after the horrible but grand spectacle which our fathers have seen, it will show us the monstrous in a contemptible pusillanimity."

The old poet probably did not think when he wrote the above, which characterizes the present Parisian Government admirably, that he was delineating the government which his own wild fanaticism has since then helped to create in the French metropolis.

Singular Story from New Orleans.

The New Orleans Picayune publishes the following story in a department of the paper where, as a contemporary says, reliable statementf are usually made:

"We heard this morning in the Mayor's office of a deplorable circumstance connected with the execution of the two Spaniards last Saturday. The rope with which the miscreants were hung had been purchased from a merchant doing business down town, who, it appears, had at the time the purchase was made, been induced to witness the execution. He was present when the murderers were made to pay the penalty of their crime, and the scene, revolting as it was, made a deep impression upon his mind. An hour or so after he returned to his home, the evening papers appeared. While he was reclining in his arm chair his wife read to him the detailed account in the evening edition of last Saturday's Picayune. Suddenly he interrupted her by exclaiming in a frightened tone, "O, see them! I see them!" and scarcely had the words escaped him when he dropped dead. He was buried on Sunday. We may mention that the deceased gentleman had for some time been afflicted with heart disease, and the impression which the scene at the scaffold made upon him had evidently hastened his death.

A Play Upon Words.

COL. R. BIDDLE ROBERTS delivered the oration at the unveiling of the soldiers monument at Phoenixville, Chester county, on Saturday. In speaking of his oration the Philadelphia Press says: The speech of the General was frequently interrupted by applause, and was forcibly delivered despite the annoyance that the stand was so unfortunately situated that the sun and hilltop breeze both set fair in the face of the speaker, and the brass band and drums took a peculiar delight in blaring forth at his most eloquent periods.

The Strasburger Zeitung states that an order was issued on the 14th ult. that German is to supersede French as the language in which instruction is to be given in all the schools of those parts of Alsace and Lorraine now ceded to Germany, French only being taught as a foreign language. An exception, however, is made with respect to the districts in which French is really the language spoken by the people.

THE official organ of the Prussian Minister of Public Worship publishes an ordinance concerning the respective competence of ecclesiastical authorities and the teachers of the higher branches of education. This edict was called forth by a rescript of the Archbishop of Cologne addressed to the teachers of religion in the Gymnasia. In future, the latter will be unable to read in their classes communications from their ecclesiastical superior without the previous authorization of the lay authorities.

THE Japan Mail says: Large contingents of troops are now pouring into Yedo from the various daimiats, and it has been reported in consequence, that the effect of this will be antagonistic to the Mikado and his government. We have, however, the very best reasons for asserting that the direct contrary is the case. Satsuma, one of the most, if not the most, powerful Prince, has given his entire support to the government, and has thus induced a sense of security in Yedo hitherto unknown.

A CURIOUS evidence of the community spirit was shown the other day in a proposition made by Citizen Pyat, at a meeting of the Paris Commune, to circulate the Journal Officiel, official paper of the Commune, gratuitously among the citizens. As a sort of compromise, it was finally resolved to reduce the price of the paper from three cents to one cent and to post it extensively. As the Journal is published with the "public" funds, the Commune was wise enough to perceive that the gratuitous circulation system, as proposed, would have beggared its treasury in a very short time.

A SEVILLE newspaper, in describing the Oxford and Cambridge boat race, tells its readers that the race "begins at Westminster by the Houses of Parliament, and takes its course up the grand river to the parks of Greenwich and Richmond," which, as Greenwich Park is several miles down the river from Westminster, is certainly remarkable; that this year "the river was crowded with two thousand steamboats, at the head of which sailed the Prince of Wales in a small boat;" and that after the guns of the Tower had announced the victor, the people rushed into one hundred thousand restaurants to drink beer.

POOR Mr. Lowe, the Chancellor of the British Exchequer, is like the man who won the elephant in a raffle, having on his hands one thousand pounds' worth of stamps intended for the match boxes, which branch of industry it was thought prudent, after all, not to tax. There seems no possible use for the stamps, and Mr. Lowe's economical soul is the prey of the bitterest remorse. Eccentric people have been known to collect cancelled postage and revenue stamps for the papering of apartments. Might not the Cabinet Room in Downing street be papered with the match-box stamps to advantage? This, at least, would enable the Chancellor to set down the thousand pounds to the expense account instead of to profit and loss.

IT IS a somewhat curious fact that several of the sovereigns of Europe do not speak the language of their respective countries very purely. The Czar of Russia speaks Russian with a marked German accent, and the same is said of the Danish of King Christian IX. of Denmark. Amadeo of Spain speaks the language of his new country very imperfectly, and the Greek of King Georgios is still so broken that it is a standing joke among the disloyal portion of his subjects. Victor Emanuel's Italian is such that his Sardinian accent is recognized as soon as he opens his mouth. The Emperor William speaks German with a marked Berlin accent, and in Sweden the opposition to King Charles says that he speaks better French than Swedish.

THE North China Herald says: Some weeks ago, we reported from Tientsin that the experts who, in 1865, had been employed to make infernal machines to make the channel of the Peiho impassable to foreign shipping, had been again applied to, to make a number of similar instruments of destruction. We hear that the demand for these articles has spread to our own door. An English speaking Chinaman well known to have close relations with the yamen of a high local official, called at the office of a foreign merchant, and after beating about the bush secundum artem at length came to the point by asking the merchant whether he knew about that kind of gun which explodes under water—evidently meaning torpedoes. On being asked how he felt interested in such matters, the truth was at length blurted out that Li-hung-chang has sent down an order for a quantity of them. There seems no doubt of the authenticity of the man's statement.

A WARSAW correspondent of the St. Petersburg Gazette says that a great change has come over the character of the Poles of late. "The old prejudices which prevented a nobleman from engaging in industrial or commercial pursuits have entirely disappeared. I have myself seen the descendants of old aristocratic families working early and late in factories and offices, and I know an old nobleman who has made his son apprentice to a baker, and is now about to help him set up for himself, without the least anxiety as to what his ancestors would have thought on the subject. The care for one's daily bread has completely humbled the old aristocratic pride and driven it from the minds and hearts of the Polish nobility. I know a very clever and wealthly landowner of Lithuania, who collected the remains of his property, and founded here in Warsaw a commercial house under his name, which furnishes him and his family with the means of living very respectably. Everywhere, and in all classes of society, is to be seen a powerful desire for work and action of a nature to improve the country."

A WASHINGTON negro has just returned "home," after an absence of twenty-eight years in South America, whither he fled to avoid punishment for aiding slaves to escape. He found that his wife, supposing him dead, married again twenty years ago, but her second husband had died on the very night of his arrival. So leaving her to bury her dead in (perhaps blissful) ignorance, he sought out his daughter, who is the wife of a messenger in the Internal Revenue Commissioner's office, and with her rejoiced as one returned from the dead.

HARD RUBBER TRUSSES.

You have observed posted up around the city placards of hard rubber trusses, which are said to retain any rupture, however severe, with the additional advantage that they will not rust or corrode. Dr. Keyser, at 167 Liberty street, has these, as well as every other kind of truss that may be needed for the relief and cure of hernia or rupture of the bowels. Let the afflicted remember as they go along that Dr. Keyser's after all is the place. If you want cheap trusses, from two dollars and upwards, the Doctor has them, as well as the best and highest quality that can be procured in the United States.

To the ruptured, there is nothing of equal importance to have a well fitting and properly adjusted instrument, therefore let not persons who have a breach or rupture waste valuable time in trying useless and inefficient remedies, when a sure and absolute relief can be obtained at Dr. Keyser's Truss Depot, 167 Liberty street, which is at the same time an office for the cure of every chronic disease. Cut this advertisement out, so that you can remember the place. my23

THE HOUSEHOLD TONIC.
The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number have candidly admitted that the pharmacopoeia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sales.

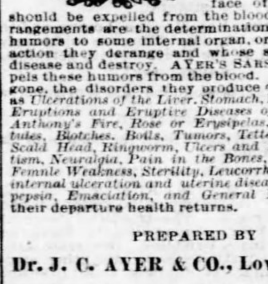
Ayer's Sarsaparilla
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.


A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 24, 1871.

The local money market continues comparatively easy. The banks seem to have but little difficulty in satisfying the demands of their regular customers, while the good borrowers outside find money ready to their wants at fair rates.

The stock market is inactive, mainly, however, from a scarcity of good dividend paying securities. There are sales reported of Exchange National at $72,12, M. & M. National at $71,50.

Monongahela Incline Plane at $65, and Monongahela Water Co. at $25,50. There was some enquiry for Columbia oil stock, at $15,50, and for Allegheny Valley Bonds, at $94,50.

The New York market shows a dull market in Governments and gold.

The Railway list is without marked change save in Reading and Rock Island, both of which have advanced sharply.

Robinson Bros., No. 78 Fourth avenue, furnish the following comparative quotations of bonds and stocks, from their latest advices by wire:

NEW YORK, May 24, 1871.

Gold weak, in consequence of the lower rates for sterling; opened at 111⅜, declined to 111¼, and closed at 111⅜@111½. There were loans made at from 1 to 2 per cent. Clearances thirty-nine millions. Exports to-day, three hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Governments dull and without decided change in price. The offerings at the Sub-Treasury to-day were $5,216,800, at 111 10-100 to 111 65-100. The awards were two millions, at from 111 10-100 to 111 25-100. Subscription to new loan, $114,000. Stocks opened feverish and prices were irregular until after second call, when the whole list improved, especially Rock Island, which was bought largely by cliques. Late in the day Northwestern took a sudden upward turn. Transactions were large in anticipation of a dividend of five per cent. on both. Reading reached the highest point of the season. It is thought by good judges that the different cliques will bid the market up one or two per cent. higher, when there will be another smash. The market is beginning to assume this appearance. In the broker's market at the close stocks were buoyant. The money market continued to work with extreme ease, three per cent. being the ruling rate. Southern State bonds are beginning to attract more attention, and prices are gradually advancing. The market to-day is very firm for everything on the list.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 24, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 4¼@4½; refined do, 4½@4¾; Pearls, 9@9½; Pots, 7¼@7½.

BUTTER—The market continues dull and presents no new or important features worthy of special notice; we continue to quote at 12@14 for fair to good and 15@16 for strictly prime. The receipts have fallen off somewhat within the past few days and, while the supply is yet largely in excess of the demand, there are some dealers who expect a more active market and better prices soon.

BEANS—The supply is pretty well reduced, but the demand is light and prices unchanged, $1,25@1,75 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Very dull; we can report occasional small sales at 5@6, as to quality.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 28@30 cts.

CANDLES—Quoted at 12 cts for mould, and 19 for star.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@2,75 per bbl; Johnstown, $2,25; Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,50@3,75.

CORN MEAL—The demand is limited and the sales are mostly of a retail character.

CANNED GOODS—Demand fair but prices are weak and drooping; 3 lb cans Peaches, $3,25@3,50 per dozen; 2 lb do, $2,25@2,50; Tomatoes, $2,62½; Corn, $2,50@2,75, the outside figure for Winslow's.

CHEESE—Is weak but unchanged; prime new New York Goshen, 16; prime Ohio Goshen, 15c; prime Ohio Factory, 14c; Ohio Dairy, 12@13c.

CARBON OIL—Is firm and tending upward, though the jobbing demand, as is always the case, at this season of the year, is light; we now quote standard brands at 22½—usual advance for small lots.

COUNTRY BACON—The demand is improving slightly but there is no improvement in prices; sales shoulders at 6@6½; ribbed sides, 7@7½; clear sides, 8@8½; hams, 10@12, as to quality and condition; country lard dull at 9@10½.

EGGS—With an average demand and continued light receipts, the market is strong and fresh sell without much difficulty at 18.

FEATHERS—Scarce and in demand, with sales of No. 1 live geese feathers at 74@75—usual advance in a small way.

FLOUR—Is firm though devoid of excitement and the demand, while a little better, is entirely local. It is worthy of notice that good standard western flours can scarcely be replaced here at quotations. Dayton flour is now held at $7, delivered here, while the same flour is being sold here at that figure. We continue to quote good to choice red winter at $7,00@7,25; white wheat, $7,50; good spring extras, $7,00, and choice Minnesota baker's flour $7 25.

FRUITS—Green apples, season about over, occasional small sales at $6@7 per bbl. Dried apples quoted at 5@7 cts. Dried peaches, scarce, but the demand seems to be falling off; quarters, 10@11; mixed, 12@13, and halves 14@15. Sales of Messina oranges at $6.25 per box and Lemons at $6.00@6.50. Prunes lower, 10½ for Turkish and 12 for French; Currants, 10½@11 cts. Layer raisins, $3 per box; Valencia's, 13 cts per lb.

GRAIN—Wheat is reported easier, though there is as yet no quotable decline in prices, nor is it likely that there will be until the receipts increase considerably. We still quote at $1,40@1,45 for red, and $1,50@1,55 for white. Oats continue stiff and we advance our quotations to 59@60 buying and 61@62 selling—small lots, in store, 64@65. Corn is dull but unchanged; sales of mixed shelled at 68@69 and more offered at the same figure; prime yellow shelled quoted at 70@71. There is some inquiry for Rye and the market is almost bare; $1,00 still seems to be regarded as the ruling price but a round lot, on spot, would probably bring $1,05. Barley is also very scarce and all that offers is taken readily at 80@85 for spring, and 90@95 for fall. The receipts of all kinds of grain have been light for some time past though this is usually the case at this season of the year.

GROCERIES—Our advices from New York, report a slightly improved feeling in Coffees, and while there is a slight improvement in the demand for Rio, and in consequence, a firmer feeling, there is no advance in prices. Sugars are steady but unchanged—the feeling is scarcely as strong in the east as it was at the close of the week, as stocks are reported to be on the increase again. Rice is scarce and firm—Carolina is selling at 9@9½ in New York. Molasses and Syrups quiet and unchanged.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 19; Prime, 18; Good, 17; Fair, 16½; Roasting, 16@16½.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS—White Honey, 72; Havemyer & Elders, 72; Silver Drips, 60; Loverings, 63; other grades, 45@55.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 14; A Coffee, 13; "B," 12¾; Extra C, 12½; C. yellow, 12¼.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 68; good, 65.

TEAS—Fancy Young Hyson, $1 40; Good, $1 10; Fair $1. Lower grades down to 70cts G. P. Fancy, $1 50; good, $1 25; fair, $1 10; Imperial Fancy, $1 40; good, $1 25; fair, $1; Oolong fancy, $1 25; good, 80cts; fair, 60@70c; Souchong fancy, $1 20; good, 90c; fair, 70@80c, Japan Fancy, $1; good, 90c; fair, 75c.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10c; prime, 9½c; good, 9c.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 23c. Pimento, 17c. Cloves, 20c. Cassia, 55c.

HAY—Sales from country wagons, at $15@22 per ton. Baled is still quoted steady, on wharf, at $16@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2½@2¾ cts.

OILS—Lard Oil has still further declined, and we now quote No. 1, at 90@92 in a jobbing way, and 87@88 for 15 or 20 barrel lots.

POSTS—Sales cedar posts at 45@50 cts each.

PEA NUTS—Higher, 9½@10 cts.

PROVISIONS—Trade moderately active but prices are still tending downward. Plain shoulders, 7½; sugar cured canvassed do, 10½; ribbed sides, 9¾; clear do, 10¾; Breakfast Bacon, 13½ plain; 14½ canvassed; sugar cured canvassed hams, 15. Lard, 11¼ in tcs and 12¾ in buckets and kegs. Dried Beef, 18@19, plain and canvassed. Mess Pork, $19,00@19,50.

POTATOES—The market is considerably stronger, in consequence of a material falling off in the receipts and the supply at present is lower than it has been for a couple of months. Prime Lake Shore Peach Blows, may now be quoted at $1,15@1,18, by the car load, and $1,25@1,30 for small lots in store.

POULTRY—The market is reported a little slow, and with increased receipts, prices are lower; we now quote at 65@70 cts per pair, by the coop.

SEEDS—There is little or no inquiry for either Clover or Timothy Seeds and the season may be regarded as over. Flaxseed is scarce and wanted—may be quoted firm at $2,20@2,25.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS, WEDNESDAY, May 24, 1871.

CATTLE.

The operations in Cattle yesterday were fair, footing something like 450 head, in the aggregate, but under the influence of continued unfavorable advices from the east, prices have again declined, and the tendency is still downward. Prime to extra shipping cattle, fat and smooth, may be quoted at 6½@6¾, against 6¾@6⅞ last week, and 7 cts two weeks ago, showing a decline of full half a cent within that time. To-day, however, there was a dead-lock, in consequence of a new rule which has been adopted in regard to the matter of weighing. Heretofore, it has been the custom after a bunch of cattle has been sold to let them stand several hours without water before weighing; otherwise the seller made a reduction of ten pounds to the head. At a meeting of the commission men, the other day, an agreement was entered into that hereafter there is to be no holding off without water or reductions made, that weighing is in order just as soon as a sale is made, and this is what is causing the trouble; eastern buyers, particularly those from Philadelphia, contend that this new arrangement is not just nor fair, and some of them intimated to-day that they would not buy a bullock from any of the commission men who favored its enforcement. The commission men claim, however, that there is nothing unfair about it, as they are willing, as an offset, to accept lower prices.

HOGS.

The Hog market continues dull and weak, and notwithstanding the receipts are light prices are barely maintained. Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The only important feature worthy of attention in trade to-day is the decline in Glasgow ginghams made by a prominent jobbing firm, who put them down to $1,11½. At this price there has been a great rush made for the goods as they are considered relatively very low. In other classes of goods there is no material alteration to observe. The trade is buying very sparingly in quantities sufficient only to supply pressing necessities. All staples hold their price pretty well, as a general thing, but passe and fancy styles are being closed at reduced figures, yet this is no criterion to the market.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with 2 feet 10 inches in the channel. Weather continues clear and pleasant, while, business, we regret to state, is very dull at the landing.

The Arlington, with considerable freight, arrived, and the Brill was expected in momentarily last evening. The Arlington will lay by until there is more water.

The Exchange, Capt. A. C. McCallum, is announced to depart for Cincinnati to-day in the packet trade. She is of light draft and is in all respects well adapted for a low water packet. She will receipt passengers and freight through to Memphis and New Orleans.

The Lorena will depart for St. Louis on the first rise.

Mr. A. C. McConnell, and John Greenough were in St. Louis on Monday.

The Yeager is again loading at Memphis for New Orleans.

The Juniata is due from Cincinnati to-day, though it is probable that she will be delayed beyond her usual time by the low water.

The Rover and J. R. Gilmore passed Evansville on Tuesday.

—The Helena Clarion publishes an account furnished by the officers of the St. Francis of the collision of their steamer with the Potomac. They report that the Potomac first blew two signal whistles, which was answered by one signal from the St. Francis, to denote that the latter wished to take the in or shore side. The prow of the Potomac struck their larboard guard, carrying it away nearly back to the wheelhouse and playing havoc with the freight stored on that side. The Potomac then backed out and afterwards come ahead, striking them amidship and mashing in the pantry and pastry room. The mate called for the Potomac to come alongside, but she paid no attention, and went off at full speed up the river. Great consternation prevailed among the passengers and crew of the St. Francis, until it was discovered that the hull was uninjured. The loss to the St. Francis is estimated at about $2,000.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says: Captain C. L. Brennan, of the Juniata, having been supœnaed as a witness in the United States Court, was in the city yesterday, and was to have left for Parkersburg last night, to join his packet.... We also take the following from the same paper: The West Columbia Coal and Salt property, at West Columbia, Mason County, West Virginia, was sold on the 19th inst., for the benefit of the second mortgage bond holders, and was purchased by John S. King, of Zanesville, Ohio, for fifty thousand dollars. This property was improved in 1850, by the late Captain A. Williams and W. J. Stephens, Esq., of Cincinnati, and was the pioneer furnace in the great salt enterprise which has since been devoloped in that vicinity.

—A late Memphis paper says: John Clark owned the bar of the W. A. Caldwell when she sunk. He paid $1,650 in August 1869, for one year's running time. The boat ran six months and then laid up for the next ten. After that she started out and sunk on her second trip. John has entered suit for $1,500, because the boat didn't keep from sinking until his time expired.

—We learn that Capt. W. A. Peebles, the well-known steamboat agent, of Nashville, will soon lead to the hymeneal alter one of Nashville's most beautiful and accomplished ladies.

—Three of the owners and commander of the Belle Lee say that steamer did not clear $51,000 the past season. She did a profitable business, but nothing like the amount reported in the paragraph going about.

—The Wild Duck passed by Cincinnati on Monday with 3 barges iron ore for Pittsburgh. Thomas Kinsey and Barney Given were her pilots.

—Bill Patterson will continue his majestic tread on the lower deck of the Great Republic, and is the only one of the old crew remaining on the boat.

—Six years ago the Continental made a clear gain of $37,000 in a trip from St. St. Louis to New Orleans and return. Her gross receipts on the trip were $52,800.

GRATES.
GRATES.

Keep Your Houses Clean,
AND

BY USING THE

Wellman Patent Reflector

STOVE AND GRATE.

Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.

1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.

2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.

3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.

4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.

5th. It is highly ornamental.

6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.

7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.

Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

A warrant and search warrant have been issued.

About a Watch.—A colored man named Livres made information before Alderman Mullin charging a Mrs. Ornburgh with larceny as bailee. It seems that Livres had a watch but no money, and he accordingly pawned the time piece to the defendant for $1.65. He alleged that this amount had been tendered to Mrs. O., but she refused to give up the watch. At the hearing it appeared that Livres owed a balance to Mrs. O., for boarding. Case was dismissed at the prosecutor's cost.

For Assembly.—Our very worthy and talented friend J. Duncan Ramsey, Esq., for several years connected with the press of this city and a member of the legal fraternity is announced as a candidate from the north side for the Legislature. He will make a strong run for the position.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Julius Richter, in another column. Mr. Richter is one of the most accomplished caterers and arrangers to be found any place, as indeed be may be with experience gained in Paris: in the Royal confectionary at Berlin; in the establishments of Taylor and Maillard in New York, and finally for seven years with those widely known confectioners Hubley and Kinder Blair of this city. Mr. Richter has for several years carried on business on his own account and has superintended the tables at many of the most recherche private and public entertainments ever given in our city. He is able to furnish the largest or the smallest parties with every requisite on the shortest notice and provides not merely edibles but also china, glass, table-linen, silver-ware and waiters. He refers by permission to many of our most prominent citizens who have already tested his talents in this line with most satisfactory results. Mr. Richter besides furnishing balls, parties, picnics, banquets, etc., with collations, has also a most attractive confectionery and bakery at Nos. 16 and 17 on the Allegheny Diamond, where he is prepared to serve water and cream ices and all of the delicacies of the bakers and pastry-cooks art to visitors. Last summer this cheerful saloon was one of the favorite resorts in Allegheny and we do not doubt that it will be more so this year than ever before.

Serious Stabbing Affray.

A boy named William White was brought before Mayor Callow yesterday morning, charged with stabbing a man named Elker, a workman at Stemple's tannery, Reserve township. White, it appears, was up till Friday last an inmate of the House of Refuge. His conduct, during his stay at that institution, had been unexceptionable, and at the date mentioned he was released on parole. On Tuesday afternoon he had some words with Elker, when the latter remarked that he had been discharged from the House of Refuge because he was so vicious. This remark greatly excited White, and without further words he pulled out a knife and stabbed him. Both wounds were in the breast, and the physician who was summoned to attend the wounded man considers them very serious. No information was made against White, but Mayor Callow re-committed him to the House of Refuge. Elker is about eighteen years of age.

The trouting season is now in full operation, and the devices set forth by tackle-makers for the betrayal of the "tawny-finned fishes" are both novel and numerous. Among them is a "phantom worm," which is so good an imitation of the real earthworm that it does not give trout the ghost of a chance to escape its lure.

Letter of Declination.

Below we publish a formal letter of declination from Major Gen. A. L. Pearson:

Pittsburgh, May 24, 1871.—Editors Gazette—Gentlemen: I am under deep obligations to the gentlemen of the press, the members of the bar and my friends generally, for their kindness in announcing me as a candidate for re-election to the office of District Attorney. I have come to the conclusion that my personal interests demand that more of my time be devoted to my private practice, and I am perfectly willing that some other of my fellow-laborers at the bar should have the opportunity of gaining the honors and emoluments of the office, which the Republican party of Allegheny county so kindly permitted me to enjoy.

I decline being a candidate for that position, hoping that I have the good wishes, not alone of my professional friends, but of the public at large,

I am, truly yours, &c.,

A. L. Pearson.

Larceny of a Watch.

Yesterday Louis Meyer was before Mayor Brush on a charge of larceny, preferred by Gotlieb Bisabel. It appears that the parties stopped at the same hotel and occupied the same bed. Yesterday morning Gotlieb found, on awakening, that Meyer had disappeared, as well as his (Gotlieb's) watch, which he had left in his vest pocket when he retired. He suspected Meyer of having taken the watch, and brought suit against him. He was arrested, and in default of three hundred dollars bail was committed to jail for trial.

RAILROAD CASUALTY.

A Baggage Master Knocked off a Train and Killed.

An accident occurred on the Allegheny Valley Railroad on Tuesday at Bonner's coal tipple, near Mahoning station, by which R. S. Jacobs, baggage master on the Day Express train was killed. He went out on Tuesday as usual with his train. On approaching Bonner's tipple, he and the conductor, as we are informed, were leaning out of the side door of the baggage car, watching a man who was attempting to get upon the train while it was in motion. A post beside the track struck Mr. Jacobs and knocked him under the wheels of the car. The train was stopped as soon as possible, and the unfortunate man again taken on board. One of his arms had been cut off by the car wheels, and he was otherwise terribly injured, so terribly that he died soon after the accident. His remains were left at Brady's Bend, whence they will be brought to the city and removed to Altoona, where deceased had relatives. Mr. Jacobs was a young man, twenty-five years of age, and unmarried. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Eye Almost Knocked Out and Nose Smashed.

Yesterday a lad, aged thirteen years, son of a carpenter named Steger, living on Third street, Allegheny, met with a very serious and painful accident. The boy has been in the habit of going into the stable of Undertaker Gaiszer, on West street, and striking the horses. He had been frequently warned not to do so, as one of the horses when thus annoyed was in the habit of kicking. Notwithstanding these warnings, he yesterday entered the stable and struck the horse, which kicked up and hit him in the face. It is not known whether he will lose his eye, but it is feared that he may. His nose was entirely smashed.

The Weather.

The indications from April 19th to May 19th cloudy and variable days; sixteen rain, with but few copious showers; thirteen sunshine, with but little freezing, but rather of a temperate atmosphere and cloudy weather. The present lunar month looks discouraging for growth. The indications point to a dry month for its place in the season. This in some degree has been verified, cold nights having stunted the growth of vegetables.

RECORD.

From the 19th of April to the 19th of May, fifteen cloudy and variable days, eleven of rain, fourteen of sunshine, seven of white frosts, and one thunder shower; there were five from the 1st to the 19th of May, 1870. Daily average of the thermometer 57; some days in 1870 59¾, or 2¾ degrees warmer each day than in 1871. Daily average height of the river 6 feet. Rain guage lost; no record.

INDICATIONS.

From May 19th to June 17th: twelve cloudy and variable days; nine of rain, not copious; seventeen sun-shine, pleasant days, and cool nights for the season. From May 5th to the 24th in 1870, the river rose from five to ten feet, on the 24th ten feet, to-day three feet. If the present indications prove as correct as some previous ones, they augur a dry month, discouraging to the farmer, and not encouraging to the general health of the community. The earth is unusually dry through the country for the season. The grass and grain crops, having obtained good root and progress, are likely to produce a good yield. The only hope is that a June hot sun may produce thunder storms and produce electricity, which hastens the growth; but there is no capital to work on to produce them, there being so little dampness below the surface. Water Supply Allegheny.

For several days past the citizens of Allegheny city have been complaining of the bad state of the water furnished. Superintendent Paul caused a thorough cleansing of the pipes to be made from the "washouts," but the complaining still comes in. To-day he will give the basins a thorough cleaning, and he wishes to impress on the minds of those residing above Hemlock and Jackson streets, that it will be necessary to lay in a stock of water, as the supply for that district will be short during the progress of the cleaning. Persons residing in that part of the city will do well to take warning by this notice, or they may want water, when it cannot be had.

An Unprovoked Assault.

Anthony Buck yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, made oath to the following: He had gone out to Willow Grove Station, on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, and had got off there, when Patrick Miller, without giving him any warning, came up and dealt him a severe blow behind the ear and knocked him down. He also alleges that Miller jumped on his prostrate body and exclaimed. "I'm even with you now." Anthony states that he does not know that he ever gave Patrick any cause for acting so. An information for assault and battery was made against Patrick and an officer went out to the Grove to look for him.

GENERALITES.

Alboni is to sing in concerts in London this summer.

Rome is almost equal to Pittsburgh, it has seventeen newspapers.

From four to six cents a pound is the price of strawberries in San Francisco.

Auerbach, the novelist, thinks he is not rich, but he is too good a Democrat to positively deny what a majority asserted to be true.

An exchange mentions a case beyond the ordinary oculists. It is that of a young lady who instead of a pupil has a college student in her eye.

"Oh, grandma!" cried a mischievous little urchin, "I cheated the hens so nicely just now. I threw them your gold beads, and they thought they were corn and ate them up as fast as they could."

"My dear," said a husband to his wife, "I'm going to start a coffee plantation." "How'll you get the land?" "Oh there's no trouble about that; I always have plenty of coffee grounds in my cup."

"What is your consolation in life and death?" asked a Sunday school superintendent of a young lady in the Bible class, who blushed and said, "I'd rather be excused from speaking his name."

The pickpockets are reaping a rich harvest by following Barnum's show, and so far they do not seem to have been at all molested by detective officers. In New Haven, it is said, that at least fifty persons had their pockets rifled. One gentleman lost $300 and a lady lost $50. In Meridan another haul was made.

The Laport Appeal says: "The iron mines of Northern Georgia are now more valuable than those of gold. They are inexhaustible, and yield a per centum equal to those of Pennsylvania. Fine marble is also abundant, and in value, like that of iron, will be yearly enhanced by increased facilities for transportation."

The Woman's Journal under Mr. Higginson and the Woodhull & Claflin Weekly, under Mr. Stephen Pearl Andrews, are having a regular prize fight without an umpire or referee. In the mean time Mrs. Swisshelm has another branch of the woman's rights subject and has nothing to do with either Higginson or Andrews.

For many years past there has existed in Philadelphia, known only to those of its citizens more especially interested in scientific pursuits, a collection of philosophical and chemical apparatus unequaled in this country, and, if the opinion of foreign savans be taken, without a rival in the world. It was made and owned by the late Chas. N. Bancker.

It is alleged that Ruloff confessed to his counsel that he drowned his two associates in the crime for which he was hanged, and that he also proposed to his counsel the murder of Burroughs, the surviving clerk, who was to be the chief witness against him, even mentioning the name of a desperado in this city who, he said, "would do the job for a reasonable price."

At Evansville, last Saturday night, Frank Kalkbrenner, a man about forty years old, subject to fits of insanity, became so frantic that a policeman had to be called by his family, to control him, when, during the officer's absence, he sprang through a window, cutting his head badly in doing so, and ran toward the river, into which he is supposed to have thrown himself and committed suicide.

The Staunton (Va.) Spectator has the following: "We are reliably informed that there was snow on North Mountain, in considerable quantities, on last Wednesday morning, May 10th. Snow at this late season of the year is very remarkable. We do not remember of there having been a fall of snow, in this section, so late in the season, since the year 1850. We do remember, however, very distinctly, that there was a considerable fall of snow on the 10th day of May, 1850."

Tom Quinlan, who has of late been serving out a sentence in the Illinois Penitentiary, at Joliet, for till-tapping at Chicago, attacked and killed the prison guard, who was escorting him and a party of other prisoners to their work, on Friday afternoon last. Quinlan first stabbed the guard twice with his pocket knife, and then took his revolver away and shot him with it, causing death almost instantly. The prisoner then made his escape, and up to the latest advices had not been recaptured.

A letter to the New York Herald, relative to the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, says: "The Democratic party does not even exist in name south of Mason and Dixon's line. There the opponents of Radicalism are known as Conservatives. The next campaign will be fought by Conservatives and Democrats combined against the Radicals and Aristocrats. Governor Thomas Swann seems at present to be the candidate of the Conservatives, and they claim for him a record which is unassailable."

Wednesday night between 9 and 10 o'clock Theodore Lyman hung himself in the jail at Canton, O. He was arrested a short time ago for burglary. There were three others in the jail at the time, and a short time previous they had been talking to him. He fastened a sheet to the ceiling and said he would show them "a little Huffman," naming a man who hung himself sometime ago. They left him a few moments, thinking nothing of what he said, but when they returned found him dead.

The little mining town of Auburn, California has a tantalizing mystery. During the last eighteen months various Chinamen have brought into the village and sold chunks of pure gold, varying in value from $10 to $200, which seem to have been roughly chopped off from a solid mass. Where they come from nobody knows, but their character indicates that the Chinamen have found somewhere a pretty considerable mass of pure material, from which they work off chunks from time to time.

The New York World relates that the "genious and loving wife of a certain litterateur found that her husband's chest was rapidly falling away, and bade fair to become consumptively inclined, because while writing the said chest pressed too much upon the abdominal region. So she bought a corset and in spite of all resistance fastened it upon him, drawing it tighter every day, till at last its ends met behind. She made him work in this strait jacket, and now he rises up and calls her blessed beyond woman."

A deputy sheriff of Memphis arrested a little negro last week on a charge of theft. The Ledger says the little vagabond looked up impudently into the face of the officer and said: "I'll bet you twenty dollars you are mistaken in your man; will you put the stamps up?" The indignant deputy ordered him to be silent, and replied: "If it wasn't for sixteen Constitutional amendments hanging over you, I'd kick you down stairs." The case turned out to be one of mistaken identity, and the youthful speculator departed. The sheriff doesn't want his name published.

After quite a protracted exchange of good-natured banter, the Louisville Courier-Journal has suddenly flared up and called the Gazette a liar, because of a statement which it took from the Courier Journal. It is a satisfaction to us, when we see this paper sinking back into the mire of vituperation, to reflect that we did something towards keeping it respectable for a while, and actually taught it how to spell Pittsburgh with an "h," which is really a great deal, considering the nature of the subject we were working with.

In opening the summer course of lectures at Surgeons' Hall, Edinburgh, Dr. Keiller stated that, had Miss Elizabeth Garrett entered into competition at the written examination of the previous year, she would have carried off the first prize. Dr. Keiller said that on handing the diploma of Doctor of Medicine to Miss Garrett, now Mrs. Garrett Aonderson, he had the satisfaction of telling her that she was entitled to the first medal, and that if there were to be many graduates like her, the male students might have no small difficulty in keeping their ground.

A plant in Ceylon has a singular provision for the distribution of its seeds. These are contained in a circular head which is composed of spine-like divisions that radiate in all directions, making a diameter of eight or nine inches. When the seeds are ripe for distribution these spherical heads, with their elastic spines, are blown away by the winds and roll swiftly over the level shore for miles, dropping seeds as they go. If they come to water they float easily, and their spines serve as sails, so that they can cross estuaries. A plant valuable for taking root in the sand, and protecting the shores from erosion, is thus widely distributed, as it could not be in any other way in a barren, birdless region.

A brave lady, wife of Colonel W. A. Moore, living near Leadvale, Jefferson county, Tennessee, has added another to the many instances of a mother's devotion. She was at home alone last Friday, says the Press and Herald, when a negro woman came running into the house with the information that Mrs. Moore's little son, three years old, had fallen down the well. Mrs. Moore ran to the well and looked down into it just in time to see her child disappear under the water. Without a moment's hesitation the brave lady grasped the well-rope and went down twenty-four feet, to the surface of the water, and grappled in its depths, with her feet, for the child. She found him and drew him with her feet to the top of the water, then holding on to the rope with one hand, and placing her feet in the crevices of the rock wall, she worked and labored over her babe till he revived and her husband came to her rescue.

How full of sorrow and sadness must be the hearts of those parents! Two lovely prattling children gone to the silent tomb, each within a few hours of the other. May we not hope that behind this frowning providence there is yet a smiling face? Gone to the arms of him who said "Suffer little children to come unto me?" The parents have our heart-felt sympathies in this their sad bereavement.

The same to be delivered, at the expense of the contractor, on board of a sea-going vessel or vessels, at any sea port nearest to the manufacturer's workshops, and accessible to such vessels.

The Light-House Board will provide all the timber work, bolts, and concrete for the foundation pier, the glass for the lantern, the lens, lamps, and furniture belonging thereto, and their cost is not to be included in the amount of the bid, but the contractor will be required to furnish all the wood-work above the foundation pier, and the cost thereof shall be included in the amount of the bid.

The bid should state the sum for which the entire work, as shown on the drawings will be completed, fully erected at the workshops, and then taken down after acceptance, and delivered as aforesaid, and should also state the day and date on which it shall be so completed and delivered, under forfeit, as specified in the "Form of Bid."

The work will be carried on under the personal supervision of an agent of the Board, and all facilities must be afforded him for inspecting the material and workmanship. Such parts of either as are not in accordance with the drawings and specifications must, in case of rejection, be made good at the expense of the contractor.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal for any reasons it may deem sufficient.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bond, signed by the bidder and two competent sureties (certified to be such by some officer known to the Treasury Department), in the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), that, in the event of the acceptance of such bid, the necessary contract will be entered into within ten (10) days after notice is given by the Board that the bid has been accepted.

Bond and security, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), signed by two competent bondsmen for the faithful performance of the contract, will be required.

A copy of the plans and specifications must be inclosed with the bid, as evidence as to the object of the proposal.
